

Aloysius R. Lujack

Business Owner

Aloysius R. Lujack, 82, who had been the owner and president of Surf Building and Maintenance Co. of Cottage City since the mid-1970s, died Dec. 26 at his home in Bethesda. He had Alzheimer's disease.

Mr. Lujack, a Pennsylvania native, came to this area in the early 1940s. He was a graduate of Georgetown University and was later drafted by the National Basketball Association. He served with the Army in the China-Burma-India theater during World War II.

In the 1950s, he worked for the Travelers Life Insurance Co. In the 1960s, he was a manufacturers' representative. In the early 1970s, he joined the Red Coats building and maintenance company, where he was a vice president before purchasing Surf.

Mr. Lujack, a member of Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church in Bethesda, was a past president of the Bethesda Lions Club and the Washington Touchdown Club. He was a member of the Edgemoor Club in Bethesda and was a Washington Redskins fan. His hobbies included tennis.

Survivors include his wife of 57 years, Katherine, of Bethesda; six daughters, Ann McKenna of Annapolis, Kathleen Goodhue of Bethesda, Susan Tinsley of Darnestown, Jocelyn Burgess of Mount Airy, Christine O'Connell of Silver Spring and Roberta Buchanan of Frederick; a brother; two sisters; and 12 grandchildren.